1. Cursing, or abusive language from the drivers stand, track building, or pit area, will result in the racer being warned on the first offense, and being asked to leave on the second.
2. If you throw your transmitter or car you will be disqualified from racing.
3. Covered shoes must be worn at all times.
4. Driving cars in the pit area is strictly prohibited at any time. If you really need to tune/check your car between heats, find a suitable area away from the track to do so.
5. DO NOT SCREAM OR CURSE at the marshals. Marshals do not intentionally overlook your car. They often get distracted, but do not scream or curse at them. If you do verbally abuse a marshal, you will be warned the first offense, and disqualified on the second.
6. EVERYONE must marshal after their race. If you race back-to-back, then YOU are responsible for getting a replacement. Let the Race Director know if you can't find one, we WILL help you. Penalties for not marshalling after your race will result in the loss of your best qualifier.
7. Make sure you marshal someone else like you would like to be marshalled.
8. Unsportsmanlike driving will result in disqualification from the race.
9. Jumping the start will result in either a drive through penalty or a restart of the race from the last starting spot on the grid.
10. Driving backwards on the track is strictly prohibited and will result in a disqualification.
11. Applying the throttle while being marshalled may result in NOT being marshalled until you apply the brakes.
12. If you have any type of problem, contact the Race Director. Calmly voice your dispute. We are here for the racers, we will do our best to make sure everything is right.
13. Hacking- if you intentionally hack someone, you will be warned for the first offense, and penalised on the second. If you "accidentally" hack someone, back off and let them in front of you again. If you hack another racer and don't back down to let them pass you back, expect a warning on the first offense, and a drive through penalty on the second. We are all out here to have fun, so let's not let hacking ruin it for anybody. If you are going to pass someone, make it a CLEAN pass.
14. RC-Mad reserves the right to refuse service to anyone and race director's rulings are final
15. No person attending a Rc-Mad event/race day/practice will have any claim for damages, expenses, lawsuits, or otherwise against a promoter, track operator, RC Mad, its officials, agents, or employees, resulting from any damage to any car, personal injury, or monetary loss of any kind whatsoever. All attendants waive any claim they may have against a promoter, RC Mad, or owners, when they participate in "any event" held at the Mackay track.

I _____ have read the terms and conditions as well as the race rules and understand and agree to abide by them at all times. I understand RC racing can be a dangerous sport and waive any rights or claims that I may have.
